

NVWF
NEDERLANDSE VERENIGING VOOR
WETENSCHAPSFILOSOFIE

Left : entrance BuysBallotGebouw (BBG)

Right: BBG is the grey rectangular building at the left; the entrance is at the other side (walk around the MinnaertGebouw to the left: the seaship-like building).

Spring Workshop of the Dutch Society for the Philosophy of Science (NVWF) in collaboration with the Institute for the History and Foundations of Science, Utrecht University

Observation and Measurement

Location : BuysBallotGebouw, Princetonplein 5, Uithof, Utrecht University.
Room 001 (ground floor).

Directions: Bus 11 from Utrecht Central Station, stop: Botanical Gardens (takes 10–15 minutes).

Date : Thursday 24 April 2014.

Programme

13:00 – 13:02 hours

Opening by Chair F.A. Muller

13:02 – 14:01 hours

A. Grinbaum (Laboratoire des Reserches sur les Sciences de la Matière, Paris, France)

Bohr's 'common language' and the Mathematics of Observation

14:01 – 15:00 hours

S. Aerts (Institute for the History and Foundations of Science, Utrecht University)

Observation from the Inside

15:00 – 15:20 hours: refreshment break of 20 minutes.

15:20 – 16:20 hours

M.J. Boumans (Amsterdam School of Economics, University of Amsterdam, and Faculty of Philosophy, Erasmus University Rotterdam)

Measurement Outside the Laboratory

16:20 – 17:20 hours

T.M. Nieuwenhuizen (Institute for Theoretical Physics, University of Amsterdam)

Quantum Measurement and the Measurement Problem

17:20 – 17:45 hours

Forum

(Chaired by D. Dieks).

For information: f.a.muller@uu.nl .